Studying Fine Art in Italy

Enquiry

Do you know of any BA (Hons) degree courses in classical (not modern) art being offered in Italy and taught in English? I'm also interested in what the funding arrangements would be for 2020/2021 entry.

Our Reply

Florence School of Art teaches undergraduate programmes in English. As well as the full undergraduate programmes they also offer semester and year abroad options which also may be of interest.

Education.com provides a search facility to find art degree programmes in Italy.

Eunicas will also allow you to search and apply to courses taught in English, however at the time of writing our search didn't show any universities in Italy teaching in English.

With regard to fees, UK students studying internationally have always had to fund their studies independently so it may not make any difference post Brexit. The student will need to ask individual universities about their plans and whether there is any scholarship or bursary funding available.
